Parent Volunteer of the Year Award

Deadline and Information

The purpose of the Parent Volunteer of the Year (PVOY) Award is to acknowledge and honor parent volunteers for exceptional achievements, contributions, service, and leadership in support of children, families, schools, and communities.

Please use this award as an opportunity to once again honor that special person who has gone far beyond the school gates in creating partnerships that focus on the needs of all families.

Nomination materials will be sent out in February 2012, but until then you might keep these considerations in mind:

Your nominee

- does not have to be a PTA member
- has given long-standing, meritorious service to families
- has achieved this by working with other parents, students, educators and youth- and family-related organizations

For this award “parent” is defined in the broadest sense.
